THE GOLD COMBINE'S SCHEME.

The plans of the financiers to control the Government of the United States in the interest of the gold corner were completely exposed in yesterday's Senate debate.

The Republican leaders in the Senate were pinned down to an exact statement of their position on the money question. The questions of Senators Teller and Allen brought out very clearly that there is no hope for bimetalism in the Republican party and that its declarations in favor of silver are fraudulent. Senator Sherman interpreted the Republican platform to mean gold monometallism, and Senators Aldrich and Platt declared it means bimetalism only by international agreement, which is moonshine and practically signifies gold monometallism for the present generation at least.

In New York the other day Secretary Carlisle pledged the Democratic Administration to the task of whipping its party into the support of gold monometallism and went into conference with Wall Street magnates to devise ways and means of securing the nomination of a gold standard candidate on a gold standard platform.

The scheme is manifest. It is to bind both of the old parties to the chariot wheels of the international gold combine and thus eliminate the money issue altogether from the Democratic and Republican contest.

THE MEANING OF IT.

In connection with the riot at the meeting of the Election Committee of the School Board, Judge Rastetter asks a significant question. "What is there," he says, "in the School Board directorship that makes these men fight with desperation to hold on?"

No salary is attached to the office of school director. There is no legitimate method by which pecuniary compensation can be secured from the office. The place is peculiarly one of trust and honor because it requires high service of citizens without pay. This office more than any other in the municipal government should seek the unusual.

But what is the fact? Although the service of the office is purely gratuitous, we find men fighting to get into the office and to stay in the office. We find them resorting to all the arts and tricks known to politicians to get the office. We find them spending money freely to insure their re-election.

What does all of this mean? What can it mean except that the office is profitable? Men do not fight and cheat and stuff ballot boxes for the privilege of doing onerous and responsible work for nothing.

If there were no other evidence of boodling in the School Board, the fact that there is fighting and cheating and ballot box stuffing to secure directorships is sufficient to prove it.

INDIANA FOR BIMEETALLISM.

The Democratic State Central Committee of Indiana has finally decided by a vote of 5 to 3 to hold but one State convention for the selection of delegates to the Chicago convention and the nomination of candidates for State offices.

This convention is to be held on June 24, previous to the meeting of the National Democratic Convention.

The decision of the committee was a complete victory for the free silver Democrats. The Administration Democrats "the State have been making desperate attempts to have two conventions called, the date of the State nominating convention postponed until after the national convention. They saw in this a chance of defeating the free men in the State convention and preventing the adoption of a free coinage platform. They used all the arts and arguments which the Administration officeholders and followers could command, but without success. At the meeting of the committee eight of the thirteen members voted for the platform of the bimetalists.

We confidently anticipate that the Wall Street organs will see in this action of the Indiana Democratic Committee more convincing evidence that the "silver crisis" is dead.

COL. PHELPS AS AN HISTORIAN.

Col. Phelps of the Missouri Pacific is becoming modest. He underestimates the value of his friendly services to Col. Jones in 1892, when the latter was a candidate for National Committeeman. Col. Jones received eleven votes in the delegation, including Col. Phelps' and ex-Governor Phelps' vote.

There are other inaccuracies in the interesting reminiscences of 1892 which Col. Phelps contributed to this morning's issue of the Francis organ. Let them mislead some future historian, but they mislead no one more important than accuracy. It seems more important than accuracy that Col. Phelps, they should be corrected now.

Col. Jones did not seek appointment on the platform committee. He had promised his vote to another delegate who aspired to that position. As soon as the result of the balloting for National Committeeman had been announced, Col. Jones for the platform committee, and he was elected on a vice vote without dissent. All the particulars with which Col. Phelps embroiders these simple facts are the effervescence of an imagination which prefers to look at facts through the prism of romance.

It is true that Col. Jones was chairman of the platform committee. He was also chairman of the subcommittee that framed the platform. In both he voted against the tariff straddle. In the room of the platform committee, while the platform was finally adopted, was being copied, he warned Mr. Whitney and Mr. Don Dickinson that the tariff platform would be voted down in the convention. He made the same prediction to Senator Vilas, with whom he walked to the convention hall to report the platform. He also told Mr. Vilas that if Mr. Neal presented his minority report, the Missouri delegation would vote for it and that his own vote would be cast therefor.

When the Missouri delegation was polled to ascertain its vote on the tariff platform, Col. Jones was on the President's platform. The secretary of the delegation, after polling the other members, came upon the platform to obtain Col. Jones' vote. He was instructed to record Col. Jones as voting for the Neal substitute, and was asked to say to the other members of the delegation that Col. Jones hoped the solid vote of Missouri would be cast for the substitute.

If Col. Phelps has any more history to give out, it is to be hoped that he will do so in time for the necessary corrections to be made.

TO-MORROW'S SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

To-morrow's Sunday Post-Dispatch will be a masterpiece of choice fiction and tales of adventure and strange happenings, an art gallery of beautiful pictures, a treasury of current verse, a mine of timely information and news. There will be no newspaper in the West to compare with it, and it will not be excelled even by the great Sunday newspapers of New York City.

Here are some of its features:
"An Army Wife." Capt. Charles King's Great Military Novel. The opening installment of a thrilling serial story of life at a frontier army post by the most popular military novelist of the day; one entire page, brilliantly illustrated.

Three Youthful American Views of an American Patriot—The prize-winning essays in the notable competition instituted by the Missouri Society, Sons of the Revolution, the subject being, "Benjamin Franklin, the Patriot." One page, embellished with exquisite pictures.

Their Penitential Self-Denial of Masculine Society—One of the daintiest of half-page drawings by Russell, showing a Lenten "violet luncheon" of St. Louis society girls in the West End, the newest phase of mild diversion permissible in the Lenten season.

A Day With the Girl-Saving Corps of St. Louis—Profusely illustrated story of the systematized work of shielding innocent young women from the perils and temptations of life in a big city; how it is organized, the societies represented in the work, the individual workers, etc. Graphic and accurate.

Good Stories Told by St. Louis Lawyers—Blackstone's disciples have always been famous as raconteurs, and local members of bench and bar sustain the profession's reputation. Crisp, typical, amusing.

The Breezy Bicycle Page—The best, brightest and most complete in the country. News of local and national interest, all the latest cycling developments, and wheeling pictures in most attractive proportion.

A Gorilla-Man Found by Garner—The famous African explorer runs across a negro savage, half beast, half human, and tells about him, the strange story being accompanied by a big and striking picture of the remarkable aboriginal.

Strange Race of Hairly Pigmies—Almost equally astounding is the discovery by another explorer of a new race of midge Africans, hairy as animals and very nearly untamable, one of whom is pictured with the story.

Her Life-Story in Her Bones—Amelle Rives, now the Princess Troubetzkoy, has told it, and a review of her fiction work makes most significant reading just now. Illustrated with that famous portrait of the writer upon seeing which John Armstrong Chandler, afterwards her husband, exclaimed: "It will marry the original of that picture if I have to search the world over for her."

Reads the Brain and Its Thoughts—The "human microscope" developed by hypnosis, a discovery by a French physician which promises a revolution in scientific research in studies of the brain. These are but ten of the features of to-morrow's Sunday Post-Dispatch, and there are scores of others, but space will not permit mention of them. However, they will all find due place in to-morrow's paper, together with the great Political Page, the striking Seven-Story Page, the up-to-date Sporting Page, the authoritative Dramatic Page, the dainty Woman's Page, and all the other Sunday Post-Dispatch features. It's the people's paper, the Sunday Post-Dispatch, and it has no rival in popularity.

A Sunday newspaper in which there is so great a variety of reading that every taste is pleased, both as to quantity and quality, must necessarily be the most popular and widely circulated. Just such a newspaper is the Sunday Post-Dispatch, and its steady growth is as inevitable as anything can be under business laws.

Senator Cullum is right when he says he cannot deny that Carter reflects the sentiments of a very considerable portion of the Republican party. If these honest Republicans have true grit they will be certain to let the gold sharks hear from them.

It would be natural for the District of Columbia to send free silver delegates to the Democratic National Convention. The Columbians are right close to the Treasury from which the gold is continually flowing.

The Post-Dispatch prints elsewhere a complete or nearly complete list of those in attendance at the gold standard conference. Missouri Democrats should cut it out and preserve it for future reference.

It is asserted that $5,000 has just been paid to each of five Philadelphia Committeemen for their votes. It is going to be very difficult for Reformers Quay to save Philadelphia.

The Ohio Senate has passed a bill to tax the greenbacks of private persons and defeated a bill taxing greenbacks held by banks. This is exceedingly slumpy.

It is in reality an act of friendship toward Spain to encourage the Cuban patriots. The sooner she abandons Cuba the better it will be for her peace and her purse.

The stories of the schemes to get gold out of the Treasury are humiliating, but there will be more of them so long as we have the absurd gold standard.

Congressman Joy drops into poetry on his menu cards. If he does this as a Congressman, what would he be giving us as Governor of Missouri?

Mayor Walbridge's boom may have caught a little cold in the recent weather changes. It may require some cough drops before it recovers.

It is well if Reed has the gumption not to make war on Carter. Such an attack might bring more friends for Carter than for Reed.

If the silver hosts of Missouri were to meet in St. Louis the streets would scarcely be wide enough or long enough to hold them.

Paul Krueger gets $10,000 less salary than Mr. Cleveland, but he has no endless chain to buy up and hit him every now and then.

The slum Kentucky Legislature might do something to redeem itself by repealing Collis Huntington's Southern Pacific charter.

The clatter of Wilson's 1,000 white horses in St. Louis will not be necessary to wake the country aware that he is running.

If the old Bay State has no better timber than Olney for President she will do well to wait until she can grow a favorite son.

The others think it well for the McKinley fever to spread now, in order that it may have time to abate before June.

New York is trying to bribe and bully both the great parties. Her insolence and her corruption are phenomenal.

One Monroe cast the only vote against Dunraven's expulsion. There seems to be no Monroe doctrine in yachting.

The Missouri goldbugs know the situation as well as Mr. Gray, and they ought to be as frank as he is.

Why don't the goldbug Republicans and the goldbug Democrats flock together and nominate John Sherman?

It would be a great thing for Maj. Bittlinger's paper if he should cave in Uncle Filley's hat.

Turkey and Spain both need to be taught a few wholesome lessons in civilization.

Every good citizen should rally to the protection of St. Louis' great school system.

The Republicans can hardly kindle enthusiasm with their Senate split up.

Sold St. Louis ought certainly to be sold for silver.

The District "Ideas."
From the Plattburg (Mo.) Leader.
The Cleveland figuring for control of the Chicago Convention makes 24 votes for the gold standard certain, with 100 more as necessary to secure a majority. Mr. Cleveland says "the only safe basis on which to estimate in regard to securing this 124 votes is the sentiment of the people in the various States and Territories." Congressional districts. So we see why Dave Francis, Judge Norton and the rest of the Cleveland time-servers in Missouri have suddenly arisen to demand that "the districts" (independently of the State Convention) select the delegates. They got "the tip" from headquarters and now go forth to battle for the meanest cause that ever led desperate men in political warfare. But then the news from Washington (which singularly enough does not appear in the St. Louis Republic, although found in the other metropolitan dailies) unfolds the scheme further by saying that the gold standard crowd hope to pick up from "districts" in silver States in this way: In Indiana, 15; Illinois, 20; Michigan, 15; and Missouri 16 out of the 34. The Republic is begging that they be allowed 5 out of the 34. But the Washington correspondents got the secret and they could not hold such good news. Cleveland, Dave Francis and the others are perhaps very sorry that this scheme has thus been disclosed.

Die They Must.
From the Paris (Mo.) Mercury.
Ex-Gov. Francis and other gold standard Democrats have called a conference of all Democrats of the State who are opposed to the 16 to 1 idea for Saturday, Feb. 23. These gentlemen die hard but die they must.

WELL-KNOWN ST. LOUISANS.

William McMillan, President of the Missouri Car and Foundry Co. was born at Hamilton, Canada, Dec. 23, 1841. He received his early education in the public schools of his native city and at the age of 18 was employed as clerk in a retail hardware store, where he remained for six years. He then embarked in business for himself. Four years later he went to Detroit, Mich., and engaged in the wholesale hardware business. In 1870 he came to St. Louis and organized the Missouri Car and Foundry Co., of which he was elected Treasurer and General Manager. In 1880 the plant was destroyed by fire. It was rebuilt and Mr. McMillan became President. He is also President of the National Rolling Stock Co., and is a member of the Merchants' Exchange. He was married in 1882 to Miss Ellen Northrup of Aymer, Ontario.

MEN OF MARK.

Calvin Flint of Williamstown, Vt., who was 85 years old last January, has split forty cords of tough firewood this winter.

Col. John S. Cunningham of North Carolina is said to be the owner of the largest tobacco farm in the United States. He had nearly 3,000,000 hills to cultivate and harvest last year.

Max Nordau, the expert in "Degeneracy," has written a highly laudatory estimate of Alfred Austin, the poet laureate. He says he considers Mr. Austin to be the most perfect embodiment of Anglo-Saxonism in the literature of our time.

Fall River claims the smallest voter in the United States in the person of James Gardner, who is only thirty-two inches tall. He was born in England in 1870 and came to America in 1880, since when he has worked in a mill at Fall River.

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Mme. Nordica and Mrs. Clara Louise Kellogg Strakosch are learning to ride the bicycle.

Philadelphia boasts of a successful woman architect. Mrs. Minerva Parker Nichol is her name.

The Queen Regent of Spain is a confirmed cigarette smoker, and seldom transacts any business without smoking before, during and after the transaction.

Among the jewels owned by Calve is a brooch representing a figure of Fame, with jeweled pinions, and the name Victoria in sapphires passing around it in a semi-circle. The pin was a gift from the Queen.

THE GAME OF REPARTEE.

"Tommy, do you ever play hooker?"
"No, I can't." "Why can't you?" "Teacher boards at our house."—Chicago Record.

Tutor: Now, can't you give me some reason for so many people suffering martyrdom in this reign? Pupil: Oh—er—er—that was their hobby.—London Pick-Me-Up.

Miriam: That Mr. Higgins, they say, is a failure as a kisser. Marie: I suppose you wouldn't object to being the receiver when he fails?—Tongkers Statesman.

One View of the Case—"Mamma, teacher whipped a boy today for whispering in school." "Well, that was right." "But, mamma, he hollered ten times as loud as he whispered!"—Chicago Record.

From the Leavenworth (Mo.) Herald.
The goldbug Democrats of Missouri are to stand up and be counted in St. Louis next Saturday. It will be found that there are a few of them, but that they are a very noisy and chattering lot. It is conceded that they must soon fall into line with the great majority or bolt. Which will they do?

From the Fulton (Mo.) Telegraph.
Dave Francis "loves his party" and is "king of the harmony bugs," but says he, if it is to be a party test, will be fatal. Can't be any worse, Dave, than the scratch in Missouri that made fourteen gold bugs in Congress from Missouri and defeated Democracy in Kentucky.

From the Farmington (Mo.) Times.
The handful of gold Democrats in St. Louis, with a meager backing in the rural districts, under the leadership of ex-Gov. Francis, have determined to make a fight for their single standard idea in the Sedalia Convention. Their stubborn opposition to the majority will only make matters worse and revive the bitterness that was somewhat assuaging. They either sink or swim, and they are sinking and blind to the temper of the people. They may call it the courage of conviction, but it is financial fanaticism.

Will Sit Down on Him.
From the Rich Hill (Mo.) Enterprise.
So David Francisco & Co. propose to buck the Democratic party of Missouri. Well, we will have to sit down on Davy again.

A Free Silver (Mo.) Indicator.

Missouri's delegation to Chicago must be a solid wall without a crack or crevice and it must be for free silver with every delegate on it pledged to work for the restoration of the people's money. If any district has "gold" enough to put up any other kind, the meeting to be held at Sedalia must at once read the riot act and at the same time refuse to confirm the appointment. The Democracy of the State is free silver by a large majority and every one of her delegates should be of that belief, otherwise our Democracy will not be rightly represented.

Gold Bug "Harmony."

From the St. Francis (Mo.) Herald.
The word "harmony" has been so frequently used by hypocritical goldbugs that it has become a term of extreme disgust. For instance take the case of old 1892. That sheet has made use of it not less than ten thousand times. "Harmony" is all right, but the idea of the goldbug talking about it is the disgusting part of the business. The Republic's object at present is to prove that it is the solemn duty of every believer in the principle of Jefferson to vote for the candidate nominated at Sedalia, be he a Democrat or a Republican.

It is preposterous for the so-called "sound money" crowd to talk of harmony in view of their cowardly course in Kentucky. There they snuffed Harlan, the nominee for Governor, simply because he would not bow in humble submission at the shrine of Grover Cleveland. To-day in the Senatorial contest in that State a half dozen of these preachers of harmony got into the Legislature on the Democratic ticket, persistently refusing to vote for Hon. Joe Blackburn, the caucus nominee, thus preventing the election of a Democratic Senator. The Kansas City Times, another corrupt organ, in an editorial in its issue of last Friday actually informed its readers that the Democratic efforts to disrupt and destroy the Democratic organization in Kentucky.

We believe these instances are fair samples of goldbug "harmony." The truth of the whole matter is that there can be no harmony with the Shermanites. Bimetallism is a fundamental principle of the Democracy. Any man who opposes free silver is not a Democrat, but an ally of the Republican party. For Democrats to harmonize with Republicans is an utter impossibility.

From the Scott County Newsbury.
For the past three weeks the Francis-Maffitt organ has been puffing and piping and asserting about "Democrats being in honor bound to abide by the declarations of a convention." The Pettie Springs convention was regularly called by Mr. Maffitt and, we believe, every county in the State was represented. It was the most enthusiastic and most generally represented convention held in the State for years. It was a Democratic convention for the purpose of getting the sentiment of the Missouri Democracy on the financial question. The result proved unanimously in favor of free coinage. That settled it—or ought to have settled it.

Now these bosses; these machine politicians; these fellows who have had the distribution of what little patronage Grover had to dish out in Missouri; these self-styled "harmonizers," these fellows who telegraphed all over Missouri to the different newspaper men to find out if people were still "honorable," it is these same chaps who now propose to "promulgate a declaration of belief and a line of action" contrary to the declarations of a regularly called Democratic convention.

Site for the Market.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In regard to the removal of the Union Market I would like to know who the West Ender is who has such a little amount of good common sense as to bring a market in a neighborhood like Laclede or Grand avenues.

I think that a more desirable site could not be obtained for a market than Sixteenth and Clark avenue. Fourteen, fifteen and sixteen streets are all in the southern part of the city, and besides it would be right in the heart of the Union Market district. And these who have stands in this future market will indeed be fortunate, as the voters cannot take the city would be delighted to go only one block to do their purchasing and not crawl way out to the western part. Please direct these ideas to the right address. St. Louis, Feb. 22. A CITIZEN.

A Bold Robbery.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I witnessed one of the boldest robberies Friday at the Union Market. A man in a dark coat and hat, and wearing a mask, was seen to enter the market and to take from a stand a large box and to escape with it. The man was seen to enter the market and to take from a stand a large box and to escape with it. The man was seen to enter the market and to take from a stand a large box and to escape with it.

A Breakfast Given.

Among the new breakfast gowns one of the handsomest is here sketched. It is of rose-pink flannel, trimmed with coral lace.

Baby's Carriage Robe.

The prettiest carriage robes for babies are made of white crepon. A fine silk quality is used and the crepon is embroidered and lined with a delicate shade of silk. Such a robe is a beautiful thing to have for a baby.

Mashed Potatoes.
Peel very thin, or cook in their jackets, as the best part of the potato lies next to the skin; wash them, put them into salted boiling water, but do not boil too long. Four of the water when cooled, drain dry, mash until every lump is out and continue the process until they are light and fluffy. During the mashing add a piece of butter, a little salt and enough cream or milk to make the mashing smooth and the potatoes creamy.

A Wash for Plants.
An excellent wash for plants is tobacco water. Take a handful of tobacco stems and steep them by pouring boiling water over them until the water looks like strong tea. When the water has become cool wipe off the leaves and stems with a sponge or soft cloth. Rub the stems of the plants with more water and thoroughly wet the earth around the roots. This will keep the plants healthy and remove all insects.

To Cook Venison.
Have the steak cut about an inch thick. It may be cut from the loin or leg. For one pound of steak put in the granite-ware dish a layer of butter, salt and pepper. Put the steak in it and dredge lightly with flour. Roast the steak in the oven, turning the steak four times. Keep the dish covered while the steak is cooking. Serve plain with a little sauce. The steak may be fried in another dish and served with the steak.

Potatoes With Cheese.
Here is a novel way of preparing potatoes: Put in a well-buttered pudding dish a layer of boiled potatoes, salt and pepper. Add a cupful of sour cream, or of grated Parmesan cheese, four whole eggs and a little salt. Beat well and pour some over the potatoes. Put another layer of potatoes in the dish and cover with the rest, and so on until the dish is filled. Bake half an hour in a warm oven and serve.

Watch How Thumbs Move.
"When I went to a nerve specialist first," said a man who was once an invalid, "he told me that my nerves were in a condition of a person's nerves was to watch his thumbs. Ever since that time I have found the greatest fascination in looking at people's thumbs. The doctor said that if they moved in a certain way it was a sign that the nerves of that man or woman were not in the best condition."

Novel Crepe Trimmings.
One of the new trimmings which Worth is using on party frocks is made of French crepe cut in elaborate designs. Crepe lace valued with jewels ornament may magnificently. These crepe trimmings, with gold or silver were the effective trimming seen on a white satin gown.

Expense Accounts.
The woman who resolved to start an expense account at the beginning of the year resolved wisely, and she who religiously keeps one is laying up for herself the foundations of future success. It is a habit to be confronted by one's expenses every night. If the expense book is a small book which can be slipped into the coat pocket, so that entries may be made in it at any time, its usefulness is increased.

The doctor said that if they moved in a certain way it was a sign that the nerves of that man or woman were not in the best condition."

Potatoes With Cheese.
Here is a novel way of preparing potatoes: Put in a well-buttered pudding dish a layer of boiled potatoes, salt and pepper. Add a cupful of sour cream, or of grated Parmesan cheese, four whole eggs and a little salt. Beat well and pour some over the potatoes. Put another layer of potatoes in the dish and cover with the rest, and so on until the dish is filled. Bake half an hour in a warm oven and serve.

Watch How Thumbs Move.
"When I went to a nerve specialist first," said a man who was once an invalid, "he told me that my nerves were in a condition of a person's nerves was to watch his thumbs. Ever since that time I have found the greatest fascination in looking at people's thumbs. The doctor said that if they moved in a certain way it was a sign that the nerves of that man or woman were not in the best condition."

YALE BEAUTY

A clear face is a very refreshing sight, for it means a clear bright complexion, which is really the exception and not the rule.

DIRTY FACES

—dirt becomes ground so deeply into the skin that soap and water will not remove it and after a few years of neglect the complexion becomes permanently muddy-looking and the face assumes an unsightly expression.

Mme. M. Yale's
Almond Blossom

will remove every trace of this condition, and make the complexion absolutely perfect. It cleanses better than soap and keeps the skin smooth, white and fine-grained. Sold everywhere for $1.00 per jar. Mail orders filled by Mrs. M. Yale.

MERITS OF THE SOUTH.

Should Be Set Forth in the Proposed Southern States' Exposition.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28.—The committee from this city to the Southern States' Exposition meeting in Chicago has reported to the Mayor assuring him that the exposition will be a success, provided the South will make an exhibition of products and advantages that can be offered to immigrants.

The report gives details of the plans adopted at the recent convention in Chicago for the promotion of the exposition and concludes with an appeal for liberal support of the enterprise.

Pause and Consider.

Dissolving events, dissolving views and dissolving memories are perpetuated by our little giant book of reference, the Post-Dispatch Almanac for 1936. It contains nothing but facts, hence, you should not jump at conclusions when there is a way to know everything and avoid mistakes by consulting this superior book of reference. Its popularity proves its merits. Thirty pages devoted especially to St. Louis. Price 25 cents.

MATCHES CLAIM TWO.

Children Play With Them and Set Fire to Their Clothes.

KOKOMO, Ind., Feb. 28.—Two children of Howard Allen, aged 2 and 4 years, were burned to death at Shanghai, this county, last night. During the absence of the family they obtained matches and ignited their clothing.

The children perished in the house in which James Gregory was murdered a short time ago.

Three Killed by Gas and Five Overcome Beyond Recovery.

DANGER NOT SUSPECTED.

Some Were Prostrated by Fumes From a Stove and the Others Rushed to the Fatal Room.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 28.—Three persons are dead and five are dying as the result of the escape of coal gas in the residence of Farmer Fred Stuenkel, a few miles south-west of Chicago Heights, near Crete, Will County.

Physicians attending the family say the mother and four of the children will die. The father, the oldest daughter, Rosemond, aged 23, and the 4-year-old child Della are already dead.

The others are: Mrs. Kate Stuenkel, aged 43, mother; Hulda, aged 16; Arthur, aged 15; Reneta, aged 7 months; William, aged 4.

The Stuenkel family has been prominent in Crete for nearly forty years, and the news of their misfortune caused great excitement among the farmers in the vicinity.

About 8 a. m. Mrs. Stuenkel awoke by one of the children downstairs crying. The father, with Della and Arthur, slept in a large bedroom downstairs. On the floor above the other members of the family slept. In the lower room was a large hard-wood stove, which had been filled for the night.

Mrs. Stuenkel, as she went downstairs, called to Rose and said she feared the child was ill. She found her husband lying upon the bed writhing in agony and moaning. Arthur was on the floor behind the stove unconscious. Della was on the bed with her father.

No one seemed to think of the coal gas and the door was kept shut for fear of cooling off the room. The daughter called to the other children to come downstairs. The baby, Reneta, had been crying and was brought along a few minutes after the family had gathered in the father's room. Each member began acting in a peculiar manner.

The baby went to sleep. William fell to the floor and crawled out into the kitchen. The mother became so dizzy that she had to leave the room. Rosemond remained with her father and in a short time the gas fumes overcame her and she fell to the floor. The girl was found there dead several hours later.

Not one member of the family seemed to notice the odor of the gas. The children ran about half dazed, always closing the door behind them. The mother and oldest son fell prostrate upon the kitchen floor.

William recovered sufficiently to crawl out into the yard. There he was seen by his uncle Henry from an adjoining house. Physicians were immediately sent for and everything possible was done for the surviving members of the family.

The Editor Priest Narrowly Escapes Death While Driving.

Rev. D. S. Phelan, editor of the Western Watchman and pastor of St. Mary of Mt. Carmel Church at Baden, narrowly escaped death at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning.

He left his residence, 823 North Broadway, in a spring wagon drawn by two horses, intending to drive into the city. When he reached Gano avenue an electric car on the Baden extension of the Broadway cable line, sped by, and the team became frightened and unmanageable.

The lead horse reared high into the air, snorting with terror, and came down with full force on the breast yoke, breaking it in two.

The team then started to run away, and Fr. Phelan saved himself by jumping to the ground.

A passenger on the car, recognizing the priest, leaped from the car to the middle of the track and ran to his assistance and helped him to subdue the frightened animals.

Fr. Phelan returned home unhurt, and the horses were cared for by a citizen.

REMEMBER THESE POINTS

That a person in perfect health rarely catches a cold. It is only when the system is run down and the blood does not circulate properly that people fall victims to colds.

That it is a bad sign to feel weak and shivery and to constantly suffer from tired, miserable feelings. If you do not eat well, work well and sleep well, there is evidently a weak spot in your system.

That ordinary food and drink cannot supply the great vital force required by people who work hard with their hands and brains. They need something to stimulate their energies, promote digestion and keep the blood moving. There is nothing better for this purpose than pure malt whisky.

That there is only one really medicinal whisky, and that is Duffy's pure malt. It is not an ordinary whisky, but a pure stimulant that has a wonderful effect on the system. It sits up the sluggish blood, builds up the health, creates a good appetite and promotes digestion. It prevents and it will cure coughs, colds, chills and even pneumonia.

Every reliable grocer and druggist keeps it. It is of inferior imitation. Remember there is no other whisky like Duffy's, and no other that can possibly take its place.

PASTOR BROWN UNDER FIRE.

Important Testimony Given by Deacon Barnard.

AUDIENCE MUCH EXCITED.

Twice After Mrs. Davidson Received the $500, Dr. Brown Called Upon Her to Lead the Flock in Prayer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 28.—Miss Mattie Overman was too ill to continue her testimony last night in the trial of J. T. Brown, and she was excused until next Tuesday. While her absence at the evening session was a disappointment to many, the session was altogether without dramatic effect. At one stage of the proceedings the audience was aroused to such a pitch of indignation that it should "Shame" to the accused pastor for his method of cross-examination. At another it applauded him so vigorously and persistently that the council chamber was cleared and the ecclesiastic court retired to deliberate in private.

Capt. W. F. Cook testified that in the Howard bible class, in what used to be the pastor's study, but is now the pastor's office, Miss Overman was introduced to him by Dr. Brown as his niece. Dr. Brown attacked the witness fiercely and cross-examined her. He referred to a prior misunderstanding between himself and Cook. The captain laughingly admitted it, and said: "Oh, it was before that I did not quite fancy you."

He also admitted that if he had had the power Brown would have had another charge several years ago. Then Brown wanted to know where Cook got the title "captain," and asserted that it was a borrowed plumage. The council interfered to protect the witness.

"Don't you know that I have had such an opinion of you for many years, that I would not introduce a lady to you?" queried Pastor Brown, shaking his pencil menacingly in Capt. Cook's face.

Dr. McLean reprimanded the cross-examiner.

"Do you think I would tell a lie in the presence of my wife?" thundered Dr. Brown.

"Oh, well, from what I know of you I think you would," replied Capt. Cook calmly.

One of the most important bits of testimony of the whole council, considered ecclesiastically, came next. Deacon Barnard testified that twice after Mrs. Davidson received the $500, Dr. Brown called upon her to lead the flock in prayer. Deacon Dexter will give the same testimony.

ILLINOIS FOR M'KINLEY.

But Republican League Clubs Will Support Any Man Nominated.

The Republican League Clubs of Illinois will have 50 delegates at the coming National Republican Convention, William C. Egan, State Organizer of the league, and ex-Vice-President of the National Republican League, arrived here from Galesburg, Ill., Saturday. He comes here expressly to attend the initial banquet of Bulema Temple, N. O. of the Dramatic Order Knights of Honor, to be held at the Lincoln Hotel.

Recently a report was current in the East that the National Republican League Clubs would support McKinley. Mr. Egan denies this. "The by-laws and constitution of the National Republican League Club disapprove of the State League, and the current of opinion is to support any man nominated, supporting any candidate before nominations are made. What we do is to work for the whole ticket."

"How about the charge made that the Illinois League was for Mr. McKinley?" he was asked.

"There is this much in it—all Illinois is for Mr. McKinley—but not through any effort of the League. The charges you speak of have narrowed down to only one officer of the Illinois League stands questionable, and in that instance there is no truth in it."

"That officer is myself. It was said that as State Organizer I traveled around hounding McKinley. The grounds were that personally I am a McKinley man—I don't deny this. I think that Mr. McKinley is the strongest Presidential candidate the Republic could nominate, and I am satisfied he will get the nomination."

"I have just completed a tour of Illinois and I find that sixty out of the ninety-eight counties in the State are unanimously for him. But neither the State nor National League will say anything about this until after the convention."

"Fearing that political lobbyists might use their influence one way or another, the National Convention of the League clubs was postponed until the month of August, when the Republicans will have made their selections. The meeting will be held in Milwaukee. We will support any ticket picked in the field."

"An far as State politics are concerned, the Illinois Republicans are unopposedly active. J. R. Tanner is the strongest candidate for gubernatorial honors. He is particularly strong among the farmers."

ARC LAMP, WILL DO

To Try Some Simple Experiments in X-Ray Shadowgraphy.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—W. W. Ker, instructor in electrical science in the Hebrew Technical Institute, conducted a series of experiments yesterday in simple methods of producing x-ray shadowgraphs. The lines on which he worked were so plain that any amateur photographer can do the same and secure very strange and interesting results.

Prof. Ker's outfit consisted of an ordinary electric arc light without a globe and the plate-holder of a small camera, with some slow-dry plates, commonly known as lantern plates. The arc light was set up on a bench in the laboratory and connected with the school dynamo. The current on this wire, however, was too high for ordinary use, and it was necessary to introduce a resistance coil to reduce it somewhat. No such coils are necessary where the resistance of the lamp is used and the experiments can be conducted in any room where arc lamps are burning.

Various small articles to be photographed were placed on pieces of paper torn from a pamphlet, with the print showing. On one piece of paper were buttons of different material and several pieces of metal. These were laid on the film side of the photographic plate in a dark room, and the plate was put in place to keep out the light when taken to the laboratory.

This closed plate-holder was then set up about eight inches from the arc light and left there for thirty minutes. Then it was taken into the dark room and developed. The result was surprising. The negative showed that the rays of light passing through the thick paste-board slide had failed to penetrate the iron and porcelain buttons and a brass buttonhole, leaving the metal disk was clearly visible. Comparing the negative with the original, all being the same, Ker was convinced that the rays emanating from the arc lamp and passing through the plate-holder, which would photograph one article and not another by its side.

For his second experiment, Prof. Ker placed an iron disk in the same position as the buttons had been on the plate. He then set up a half-inch plate board. After half an hour's exposure the plate was developed in the usual way and the picture of the metal disk was clearly visible. The plateboard slide and the piece of book paper to which the disk was fastened.

LET CHILDREN BEWARE.

Little Girl That Bought and Ate a Candy Rooster Is Dying.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 28.—A one-cent sale is the cause of a 10,000 damage suit entered by Joseph A. Wright against Bailey Hobson.

On last Thanksgiving Day Wright's little girl bought a candy rooster for a cent at Hobson's store. The child became sick and is now wasting away and threatened with paralysis.

The rooster, which she had eaten, was found to contain a small amount of arsenic. The doctors have been unable to remove this substance from her stomach. The stuff is absolutely inedible.

The child may die. Physicians say if she lives her health will be permanently wrecked. Hobson is charged with criminal negligence in selling such stuff and will also, it is said, be prosecuted under a stringent pure food law passed by the last Legislature.
